

Monorail

Seattle, Washington

The Facts: The Seattle Center Monorail is an elevated monorail line in Seattle, Washington, that operates along Fifth Avenue between Seattle Center in Lower Queen Anne and Westlake Center in Downtown. Seattle Center Monorail is a public transport driving HAD with a top speed of 45 mph (72 km/h). The monorail is owned by the City of Seattle and opened on the 24 March in 1962. Our experiences: It is a good transport in the center of Seattle.

Railway (Public transport)

N: 47° 36' 43.279" W: 122° 20' 15.523"

Operating hours Monday-Friday: 7.30 am – 11 pm Saturday-Sunday: 8.30 am – 11 pm

Price:

$2.25 for Adults $1.00 for Youth ages 5 – 12 Children 4 and under ride free

It was pretty comfortable if you want to get to the most popular sights. The drive through the Downtown of Seattle is very impressive. Although the line between Seattle Center and Westlake Center is very short, the view through sky scraper and the sea with the big Ferris Wheel is pretty amazing. In conclusion we would say that the monorail is worth it because of the nice view and centrality.

How long did we drive: From Seattle Center to Westlake Center (The whole way)

What did we like? The view and the centrality

What did we not like? Too short line, a bit too expensive

For which group of people is this sight:

For everyone, especially for bigger groups who need cheap and fast transport

My tipp:

Go there during the sunset or at night.